MONTHLY NEWSLETTER OF THE MADISON MEADOWS MIDDLE SCHOOL

MARCH 2023

ISSUE IX

Dear Meadows Families,

It seems February passed by in the blink of an eye, and I, for one, am looking forward to sunshine and brighter days! As we close out third quarter, I wanted to share with our community some of the things we've been working on here at Meadows as well.

First, I want to celebrate our students' growth on the NWEA MAP assessment. One of our long-term goals in our school improvement plan is to have 45% of our students at the 60th growth percentile or above on the MAP assessments from fall to spring. According to our winter results, we have 45% of our students at the 50th percentile or higher in math and 50% of our students are at the 50th percentile or higher in reading. This national assessment is one of the best measures we have for student learning and we are super close to reaching that end-of-year goal!

We also set a goal to increase student engagement by testing out some different teaching strategies. We've seen students learning about physics through building roller coasters, they are using math skills to program robots in coding, theater students are performing for Simis students, our language and lit teachers have had kids doing a ton of reading and then participating in different activities like 'book talk speed dating' or presenting projects of choice, music students went to see Ray Charles at the Madison Center for the Arts and did an accompanying activity, project design students learned about machines in motion and made some incredible imaginative machines... I know that was a huge run-on sentence, but students are really engaged and are doing great work (I didn't even highlight everything)!

Our final school improvement goal is related to school culture and climate. While staff have been implementing both RULER strategies and Positive Behavior (PBIS) system with fidelity (shout out to PTM for continued support of that program through teacher 'stores' and Ramazon), it's our students' work I want to highlight.

Our student advisory group has been meeting to discuss the power of words. In the prior sessions, students talked about where they hear the words that so negatively impact their lives. Not surprisingly, most said social media, siblings, and friends. The group then came up with ways in which they could help stop some of the hurtful and destructive words from becoming pervasive. Our latest meeting focused on how the use of positive words could balance the use of negative words. The goal of the group is to take these lessons they are learning, and transform them into lessons they can teach to other students. Our goal is that peer-to-peer interactions will make the message more memorable, rather than something to be ignored from another adult.

I'm looking forward to seeing our Meadows community continue to grow as we transition into spring and push towards the end of the school year. Fourth quarter will be packed with state testing, field trips, final MAP testing, project-based learning opportunities, and end of middle school events for 8th graders.

Thanks in advance for all of the efforts you put in at home to ensure that our students stay focused and achieve their full potential through the end of the year.

All the best,

Katy Clark, Principal

SIGNOUTS & CLASSROOM INTERRUPTIONS:

Did you know that in the month of February, there were 380 students signed out early from school!?

That's 380 times a classroom was interrupted by a phone call from the office. Please help us keep these to a minimum and make your appointments during breaks and early release days.

Students who forget lunches, projects, etc. also cause classroom disruptions, please try to plan what to bring the night before.

Thank you!

NOTE: Doctor's notes for these sign-outs should be given to the attendance clerk.

ART*For Syria & Turkey*

Syria and Turkey have experienced catastrophic earthquakes. Art Students at Madison Meadow will be making art inspired by Syrian and Turkish Culture. This work will be sold and all proceeds will be donated to the International Rescue Committee who are on the ground providing support to the people who need it most in Syria and Turkey.

Please email Ms. Tracy at mtracy@madisoned.org if you would like to make art with us or help in our efforts.

ART

Art teachers and IB Coordinator Ms Vacanti are working with students to talk about the earthquake victims in Syria and Turkey.

In Mrs. Boyles room, students are learning about radial symmetry in traditional Syrian art and then creating Mandalas.

In Ms. Tracy's class, students are exploring traditional Turkish marbling techniques. Artwork will be made as a fundraiser and sold with proceeds going to the International Rescue Committee. The event is still being organized but information will be shared soon as to how and when artwork will be sold.

Last year, Mrs. Boyle and Ms. Tracy's students raised over $1500 by selling sunflower art for refugees displaced by the war in Ukraine!

6th Grade News

Meadows sixth grade classrooms are immersed in a summative project to demonstrate their understanding of thermal energy transfers and changes in states of matter. Through a Multiple Intelligences quiz, they discovered their strengths and areas of greatest interest. They are using this information to choose how they will present their knowledge to their peers.

Examples of end products are: Tik Tok video (Kinesthetic Intelligences), Video presentation of student cooking for their family (Interpersonal Intelligences), Doodle Notes (Visual/Spatial Intelligences), Writing & Performing a song (Musical Intelligences), Write a children's book, poem or comic (Verbal Linguistic Intelligences), Presentation of examples of thermal energy transfers and changes in states of matter occur in nature (Naturalistic Intelligences), Writing a coding program (Mathematical Intelligences), Writing journal entries (Intrapersonal Intelligences). The students are incorporating their own uniqueness to science!
