MONTHLY NEWSLETTER OF THE MADISON MEADOWS MIDDLE SCHOOL

NOV 2022

ISSUE IV

Hello Meadows families!

With the weather changing from warm to cool, it's no wonder autumn is a season known for change. But it's not just the weather that changes. You probably have noticed that your child's middle school experience is defined by change. They are changing more socially, emotionally, physically, and intellectually than they will at any other time in their lives. Working with our students through these changes is exceptionally enjoyable and rewarding, and our approach is intentionally designed to help them overcome the challenges we know they will face.

One of the ways we could use parental support in supporting students through change is to ensure that they are here at Meadows every possible moment because every moment matters. Our initial report from the state indicates that Madison Meadows has an exceptionally high chronic absenteeism rate of 25%. Chronic absenteeism is defined as missing 10% or more of school days in a school year for any reason—and late arrivals and early pick-ups count towards those absences.

We appreciate your support in getting your student to school so we can engage our students intellectually and creatively, celebrate their successes, and help them realize their best selves.

Yours in partnership,

Katy Clark & Amber Sherman

Student Art Show with Bryson Bost November 7th, 5:00 pm – 7:00 pm

The gallery at the Madison CFA just presented its newest art show; Into the Wild: A Journey of Mindfulness, Imagination and Presence. A new year brings a new show and new opportunities for Madison students to experience art in the classroom through the guidance and mentorship of Bryson Bost. Through his maximalist style and deep understanding of self presence in art students will experience art like ever before.

The Gallery at the Madison is excited to announce its second student art show showcasing the art Madison students have created during their masterclasses alongside Bryson's works in the Madison Lobby Gallery, November 7th, 5:00 PM - 7:00 PM!

Featured Artists

Bryson Bost is a maximalist painter who is dedicated to the immersive nature of details. He aims to provide an optimal viewing point from every distance through patterns and hatchwork. Through this viewing point, Bost hopes that all those who choose to explore his paintings are rewarded with whimsical moments no matter how far they may be from the painting.

Story Behind the Exhibition

The Gallery at the Madison is proud to support local artists that want to give back to the community by sharing their talent with our students through in-person Masterclasses. Through this collaboration, it was evident that the student art that would be created needed to be shared to the community. A chance for students to show their art alongside a professional artist could be a life experience.
