MONTHLY NEWSLETTER OF THE MADISON MEADOWS MIDDLE SCHOOL

OCTOBER 2021

ISSUE II

Hello Meadows Community!

This may sound corny to you, but I seriously love my job. What I love most is that every day is different and allows me new opportunities to learn and grow.

This quarter, I taught 5th-grade math and science, 6th-grade humanities, and 7th and 8th grade PE. I've cheered on our student-athletes at their games. I've taken phone calls and met with both upset families and happy families. I joined in on our Make a Difference Day to clean up Meadows. I've seen students make great choices and not-so-great choices. I've observed teachers taking risks and trying new strategies to engage students. I've troubleshooted with my support staff on ways to make our school run more efficiently.

If I were to take a poll of teachers, paraeducators, office staff, custodial staff, parents, and students, I'm sure we could generate a pretty extensive list of the many challenges we face and the hats we wear.

But it's not the list that is important. It's what we learn from those experiences.

My experiences this quarter have provided me with some important reminders: To be grateful for the community that surrounds me. To be humble as I acknowledge our achievements. To reflect and take action in the areas where I know we need to continue to grow.

While this quarter is closing, the next will soon begin and will offer our students and staff a fresh start. It is my hope that our Meadows community can honor all the amazing things that we have accomplished over the last quarter and look forward to continued growth and success.

With gratitude,

Katy Clark
